Two Conventions, Each Nominating a Candidate, Seems Logical Outcome

Of the Failure to Reach Agreement on Any Compromise Proposition.

McADOO WILL NOT YIELD

War Will Smith Forces Admit His Chance of Victory Is Greater Than Former's Delusion Show Lots of Life and Vigor as Fight Is Renewed.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright by The Daily Courier)
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, July 7.—Two conventions, each nominating a candidate—McAdoo and Smith—just as the Republican party has split with Coolidge and LaFollette may be the outcome of the deadlock of the Democratic here.

The conference committee appointed to look over Sunday accomplished virtually nothing. Two proposals were formulated, the one threatening the method by which McAdoo hopes to win, and the other presenting the strategy of the anti-McAdoo forces, and particularly the Smith group. When these proposals were read to the convention it was obvious that the delegates did not approve, whereupon Britton Kramer, of Montana, a McAdoo leader, suggested that the rules be suspended and that a new meeting of the rules committee be held to revise the rules. The purpose of it was to secure an abrogation of the two-thirds rule and nominate by a majority vote. The anti-McAdoo delegates recognized the scheme and it was beaten by a chorus of "noes," without even a roll call.

The convention then started to vote on the 75th ballot and the groans of many delegates who saw only a monotonous repetition of the futile balloting of last week. Very little change on the standing of the leading candidates was recorded over the weekend. The powers were spent in fruitless conference.

The effort to eliminate both McAdoo and Smith came from the favorite son, Governor Smith, who represented the anti-McAdoo forces. He was ready to withdraw from the race, but his position is that McAdoo must withdraw first or be beaten. The McAdoo forces showed themselves obdurate on the question of withdrawal. The former secretary of the treasury told the delegates he would be a traitor if he withdrew after the splendid fight made by his supporters.

While the conference proposals go nowhere, there is no doubt that both schemes had in them the means of breaking the deadlock. The suggestion of the anti-McAdoo men, for instance, called for the releasing of all delegates who were instructed to vote for McAdoo, and the anti-McAdoo men were seriously instructed to do so as he has nearly 400 instructed delegates while no other man has more than 50 or 60.

The rumor of this device was the subject of a bit of sarcasm by F. K. Davis of San Antonio, Texas, who rose in his seat at the morning session and asked Chairman Walsh if it was true that D. F. Houston, former secretary of the treasury, who had received a vote in this convention, had agreed to release the delegates he had under instruction. This represents the feeling of the McAdoo delegates. They don't want a plan which weakens their strength and promises no corresponding opportunity of victory. The McAdoo counter proposal was somewhat of a surprise but it was drafted to prevent McAdoo from being in the position of simply continuing the deadlock.

He proposed that both the unit rule be abolished and the two-thirds rule be abolished. He has been challenged by his opponents several times to propose that, but McAdoo accompanied it with a proviso that the low man on each ballot be eliminated and that whenever he is voted out, the delegates be voted on the proposition. The last two suggestions defeated, the whole proposal for it takes a two-thirds vote here to suspend the rules.

All the favorite sons think they have a chance and they together with a few anti-McAdoo men control more than one-third of the votes, so no motion could be passed and the balloting had to be resumed.

The determination of the McAdoo forces is as great as it was on the day the first ballot was taken. They insist they are fighting for a principle and that their opponents come from states which never go Democratic in the general elections. Certainly neither McAdoo nor Smith has been persuaded that the chance of victory is gone. Presumably they never will and things are to be carried to their logical conclusion.

Incidentally McAdoo, in his speech last night touched on the platform plank which proposes a referendum on the League of Nations. In that referendum he said in substance that he would vote "aye." So he has placed himself directly on record as favoring the league. By this it is said he hopes to gain support.

NEW YORK DELEGATES VOTE TO STAND BY GOVERNOR SMITH

By United Press.
NEW YORK, July 7.—Although Governor Smith is ready and willing to release all delegates pledged to him at the National Democratic convention, the New York delegation met early today and reaffirmed its allegiance to the governor.

There is no hint of any split in the entire state delegation and today's action means the delegates will stick to Smith until he requests them to vote for some one else. The governor last week released them from the resolution they adopted in which the delegation pledged itself to Smith until the end.

There was a feeling of satisfaction at Smith headquarters today over the action of William G. McAdoo in rejecting the proposal of the conference to release all delegates. The view taken is that it shows McAdoo to be purely selfish in refusing to release delegates who are bound to him by the unit rule and that he does not wish to aid in any way to bring about party harmony.

COX ON HAND TO BRING "HARMONY"

By United Press.
NEW YORK, July 7.—James J. Cox, Democratic presidential nominee of four years ago, came to New York today to attempt to "harmonize" the discordant forces of the convention. Declaring he would not accept the nomination if it was tendered him, Cox stated that his only interest was toward bringing the various elements of the party together. He will not favor any social candidate, he said.

President Prays at Boy's Bedside as Poison Slowly Saps Feeble Life Spark

Simple Faith of New England Ancestors in Religion That Son Be Spared.

BLOOD TRANSFUSION FAILS

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, July 7.—The President of the United States prayed today at the bedside of his younger son Calvin Coolidge, Jr., who is critically ill with septic poisoning.

Not as the Nation's chief executive but as a father knowing in the full measure a father's grief, just as it comes to the humblest in the land, Mr. Coolidge brought the simple rugged New England faith of his ancestors to ask that his son be spared.

With the President was Mrs. Coolidge, nearly worn out with anxiety and sorrow for the son she loves and whom the best surgeons of Washington are almost powerless to aid.

Duties of the White House and all thoughts of the coming election have been laid aside. The Coolidges as any other father and mother would, watch at the bedside where a spark of life still flickers feebly this morning. The boy was unconscious of their presence.

Twice Sunday, encouraged by optimistic reports from six physicians who are fighting the poisoning that is sapping 16-year-old Calvin's vitality, the President turned to thoughts of his office, only to hurry again to Walter Reed Hospital when the boy had three sinking spells in succession. Finally the Coolidges remained all night at the hospital, most of the time at the bedside.

"A bare fighting chance" was all that the doctors held out. A blood transfusion last night failed to aid Calvin, Jr. As a last resort a saline solution is to be injected in an effort to strengthen the boy's blood against the creeping poison.

President and Mrs. Coolidge, worn and tired from an almost unbroken vigil of 12 hours, left the hospital for lunch at the White House, indicating that no immediate change for the worse was in prospect.

Dr. William Gerry Morgan, stomach specialist of Washington, was added to the list of consultants to cope with the accumulated gas in the stomach which was preventing Calvin from taking nourishment.

PLANS NOT MATURED FOR ADDITION TO CAPSTAN PLANT

Officials of the Capstan Glass Company said today there was nothing that could be given for publication at this time regarding a proposal to expand that has been discussed for some time and in the interest of which President C. Fred Egan and Superintendent Banks D. Brown appeared before South Connellsville Council at its last meeting Thursday night. The project, President Egan indicated, is an indefinite one.

The glass company officials appeared before council to ask for an exoneration on the proposed expansion, at the same time expressing willingness to continue paying taxes assessed against the present property. Council showed willingness to grant the exoneration for a period of 10 years, feeling that the town would be the gainer thereby in increased employment. Action was held over until the collector be consulted.

According to the unofficial information the company plans to add 50 per cent to its present capacity by building another unit.

Several thousand others were expected at the first night session at Forbes Field tonight.

Report of Peace Committee Adopted by Overwhelming Vote of 935 to 105.

UNIT RULE STILL HOLDS

Texas Ready to Present Resolution Calling for Convention in Another City and McAdoo Forces Ready to Support It, With Smith Voting Aye.

By United Press.
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 7.—A nomination for the Presidency by the Democratic National Convention appeared tonight with the remote possibility tonight when balloting will be resumed.

The convention recessed shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon after having taken its 53rd ballot without result. The delegates will convene again at 8:30 after a series of conferences among leaders and there is high hope that a nominee will be chosen before adjournment is taken.

The way was opened for the siding of William G. McAdoo out of the convention during the afternoon. The convention adopted the report of the conference peace committee, which releases delegates from all pledges and obligations to individual candidates. McAdoo had refused to concur in such a recommendation but with its adoption the way was opened for swinging away from the Californian, as the action of the convention gives the delegates an alibi for use at home.

Senator Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana now appears as a strong possibility for the nomination.

On the 53rd, the first and only ballot taken after the adoption of the resolution releasing delegates from individual pledges, but without abrogation of the unit rule, showed practically no change in the results. In detail the ballot was as follows:

Underwood, 37½; Robinson, 27½; McAdoo, 41½; Smith, 58½; Davis, 24; Ritchie, 16½; Glass, 7½; DeWitt, 72½; Saulsbury, 6; Walsh, 4; Owen, 20; Charles W. Bryan, 5½; Franklin D. Roosevelt, 1; Ferris, 7½; Wheeler, 1.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 7.—William G. McAdoo suffered a crushing defeat in the Democratic National Convention this afternoon when the convention by a vote of 935 to 105 adopted a resolution to suspend the rules for the acceptance of the conference peace committee's report recommending that delegates be released from their pledges and obligations to all candidates.

This does not disturb the unit rule but it throws the convention wide open and that many of McAdoo's delegates desire to get away was demonstrated when several states which have voted for him cast their ballots for adoption of the resolution suspending the rules.

McAdoo opposed the conference report, personally sending a letter to Chairman Walsh last night submitting an alternate proposal.

Chairman Walsh explained for the benefit of the delegates that the resolution does not abrogate the unit rule but merely expresses the sense of the convention that pledges given by delegates individually to candidates might now be relieved of further adherence to those pledges without being subjected to criticism. Insofar, however, as the unit rule has been imposed on delegations that rule must continue to be applied, Walsh said, except as its abrogation may be accomplished by the delegation itself.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Possibility of a wide-open split in the Democratic party, which would result in an adjournment of the session here, followed by two separate conventions, one of which would nominate William G. McAdoo and the other Governor Al Smith, began to appear as balloting was resumed for the seventh day.

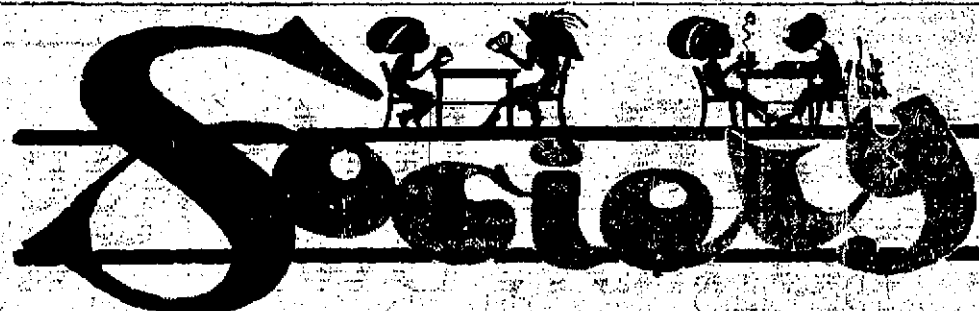

The first action of the convention today, in the order of regular business, was to cast aside the peace agreement, signed by all candidates but McAdoo, to release delegates from all pledges. A motion to refer the report of the committee to the committee on resolutions was voted down.

Then the 75th roll call was started and it showed no material change from the last ballot taken Saturday although Virginia switched 10 votes it had been giving to Glass to McAdoo.

In the meantime southern delegations are getting tired of the merry-go-round affair that is going on. Texas plans to present a resolution calling for the adjournment of the convention to meet in some other city two weeks hence. The McAdoo forces, it is understood will vote for such a resolution this time. If it carries feeling is such that the Smith faction may refuse to participate and there will it be as a McAdoo and a Smith convention and the split in the party will be complete.

RUN WILD ON BASES

Knocking Timcheck, Smithfield's pitching "ace" from the mound in the fourth inning, the Capstan Independent team easily won its third consecutive victory over the Smithfield Independents Saturday evening at South Connelville by a score of 13 to 2. The glass blowers awaited the piff for all safeties. Warren replaced Timcheck and he was batted hard. G. Clawson worked on the mound for the Smithfielders and kept the enemy safe, allowing them but six hits and two runs.

Ralston and Dushaw paraded with four hits apiece, while G. Clawson, Davis and Moorman came through with three safe swats. Dushaw contributed a homer, while other extra base hits were numerous. Foye of the losers was the only batsman to get more than one safe blow. He got two besides hitting hard behind their moundsmen. Capstan played errorless ball. Wild base running by the Capstan outfit played an important part in the game. Batters in scheduled to appear at South Connelville this evening, while the Capstaners will go to Fairbance tomorrow evening. Stewart will be the attraction at the Capstan grounds on Thursday evening. Saturday, the Divina Independents will play at South Connelville. ### LUIS ANGEL FIRPO WON FORTUNE EASY

Argentine Boxer Struck at Opportune Time.

No boxer in the history of the ring ever had such a sensational rise to prominence or made so much money in such a short time as did Luis Angel Firpo. It is probable that no boxer ever will find conditions so suitable as Firpo did for his elevation from a $10 fighter to one worth a half million.

Boxers with more ability than Firpo may lack the size and color that the Angel turned into a fortune in one year. Boxers in the future with the same color and romance and much more ability may never find the opportunity that Firpo found when he just stumbled into it.

Firpo was the first South American fighter to become famous. Since he became famous he started a vogue for South American fighters, and in a few years, there will be no novelty in watching or reading about South American fights. It is possible that American or Argentine fighters may earn a reputation for being cheese fighters and will be given no opportunity in the United States.

Firpo happened to spring up at a time when promoters were looking for another million-and-a-half-dollar sale. Mike Tex Rickard pulled with the Dempsey-Carpentier fight. It was the thought that the international character of the Dempsey-Carpentier bout was what would have to be provided to get another vast outpouring of the boxing public.

There were no great foreign fighters available until Firpo showed up and Rickard, with more foresight than any other promoter, grabbed him and rushed him along into a great fortune.

Sport Notes

Between five and six million people in the United States play billiards.

"The newspaper notion," says Chick Evans, "is a great old in gold." Ah, there's the rub.

Master Robert, the winner of this year's grand national steeplechase, was once a plough boy.

Pasta had announced the raw meat cure for tuberculosis. It is also said to be good for American football.

The United States will be represented in the 1924 Olympic games by 425 athletes in twenty different branches of competition.

"Happy" Howard, who stands over six feet in height, is credited with being the tallest pugilist fighting in the middleweight division.

Really Good Tennis Players in Country

William T. Hilden remarked recently that touring the country last year he was astonished at the number of really good tennis players to be found in localities that had never been mentioned in tennis circles. No one around Boston, New York and Philadelphia, acknowledged tennis centers of the United States, had ever heard of these players.

Professional golfers, traveling from city to city playing exhibition matches, find excellent golfers in remote parts of the country, men showing genuine talent. Some of the best football players in the land are members of "fresh water" college teams and the stars of baseball, at least a great number of them, come from places that are included only on the enlarged maps.

Keeps Sabbath in Old-Fashioned Way

Branch Rickey, manager of the St. Louis National League baseball team is probably the only notable figure in American sportsworld, who keeps the Sabbath in the old-fashioned way. Branch refuses to go near the park or have anything to do with the sport (or business) on Sunday. The photograph shows Branch Rickey, with Shotton, the St. Louis captain, who runs the team on Sunday.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

Baby's Summer Home.

One outdoor sleeping basket for our baby was made out of an old clothesbasket. We had used a clothesbasket bed before, but the usefulness of this one was increased by putting on a top formed by covered wires. The top is easily made, can be adjusted, and makes it possible to put baby's basket out on the porch or lawn.

To Whiten Skin with Lemon

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softer and beautifier. Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.—Advertisement.

Gay Stockings in Light Colors for Kid Shoes

Now that kid shoes have become important among the novelties, new styles in stockings are shown in large and attractive variety. For boys wear the newest stockings are very gay in light shades, with stripes of contrasting color—only with the stripes running horizontally instead of vertically, as has been usual for a long time, and resembling socks of ready. Stockings are woven lightweight in two colors and some are ribbed in solid colors or shadow stripes. Sports hosiery is all of this wool, silk stockings being incorrect with flannels and tweeds.

For dress occasions and for ordinary wear on shoes are new lovely styles in silk. Some have double clocks others are made of lace or openwork, and in quite the latest style are the stockings on which small figures and dots are embroidered in rows. White stockings are treated with black polka dots, black with white, and many pretty color combinations are to be had. Gloves of silk and lace to match stockings are the latest fad.

Latest Walking Sticks

Long, Slender, Enamelled

In every large department store is a little corner of the umbrella counter in which are displayed the newest things in walking sticks for women. Such is the faith of the importance that they are showing the late styles and colors in sticks at a long range of prices. This fad, which is affected by a limited number of fashionable women in Paris and London—usually the smart element of the professional world—has been handed over to us, and with it is now "going strong." The new sticks are long and slender, in enameled wood, white, black and gray shades, with heads of crystal, metal, enamel, glass. The very latest snap is a walking stick of pale rose enameled wood which has for top and handle the head of a blague doll—a blond effect, just large enough to fill the palm as the hand closes over it, with marbled locks and a dotted net veil.

Give It The Effect

No home-maker, no matter how modest her dwelling, small her income, need pine for a lovely tiled bathroom and light, clean-walled kitchen, since the glazed tile-effect wall paper so perfectly and so very inexpensively reproduces the best tile qualities of light, beauty and an easily cleanable surface.

At the Theatres

The Paramount

"MOTHERS-IN-LAW"—Showing today and Tuesday at the Paramount, presents Gaston Glass, Ruth Clifford and other well-known screen favorites in an interesting role.

Through a happy combination of story, direction and acting material, this picture possesses every element of the successful motion picture, and, just to prove that the public has not been misjudged by those who criticize picture audiences, those who viewed it cried: "laughed and in other unmistakable ways, showed that they thoroughly enjoyed the picture."

The cast is remarkable for the ease with which the players, even the least important, blend into their roles. Gaston Glass, as the harassed husband, contemplates the ideal of feminine ease. Needless to say that Ruth Clifford, repeated to be the best dressed woman on the screen, is practically perfect in this role as the daughter of luxury who becomes the bride of a farmer boy.

Other members of the cast are equally successful in their respective roles. Eddah York, in the title role, deserves the best the theatre has to offer. Josef Swickard is the frantically father, Crawford Kent, the inevitable interloper, while Gannier has added, for the sake of beauty, such attractive girls as Vera Vale, Davis Stone and Marie Curie—all of whom can make a touching and the most alluring of garments.

Tuesday and Wednesday, Richard Talmadge will be seen in "On Time."

The Soisson

"WHY GET MARRIED?" which opened today at the Soisson, for a three day attraction, presents Andree Lafayette in the title role. It is an original story and has exceptional appeal to women, young and old, married and single.

In "Why Get Married?" Miss Lafayette is cast as Marcia Hemling, the young private secretary to John Strong, importer, who is married to a handsome young man but who for business reasons keeps her wedding a secret. The husband is splendidly played by that popular actor, Jack Purvis.

There is a sweet romance in the picture that runs into a narrow channel through the writing of anonymous letters by the son of Marcia's employer who is infatuated with Marcia but who regulates his overtures, and who is given a sound thrashing by her husband in one of the most exciting and thrilling scenes ever presented.

Helen Ferguson, Bernard Randall, Max Constant, William H. Turner, Edward Tilton and Orpha Allen are in Miss Lafayette's support and handle their respective roles with credit.

The picture is timely, tells a story that deals with everyday problems of married and business life and is presented in a picturesque environment.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Reginald Denny will be seen in "Sporting Youth."

The Orpheum

"TRY NAME IS WOMAN," which opened today at this theatre for a three day attraction presents Barbara La Marr and Ramon Novarro in the leading roles. The picture is one of Fred Niblo's biggest achievements and with every scene as its locale and Mr. Novarro and Miss La Marr in interesting roles. It is a fragment with Spanish romance. Mr. Novarro has become one of the most popular of film stars in the short space of two years.

His ability as a dancer won him a place in the Mafion Morgan dance troupe, and it was not long before he found himself in California. Rex Ingram saw him and put him in the role of Rupert of Hentzau in "The Prisoner of Zenda." He made an instantaneous success, and his acting future was assured.

He next appeared in "Trifling Women," in which he shared honors with Barbara La Marr and Lewis Stone. This served to bring Miss La Marr and over to stardom.

After that came "Where the Pavement Ends," which was his first role as a real honest-to-goodness hero. Then "Barracoon," the big Rex Ingram special in which Novarro rose to great heights and placed himself at the head of male film stars.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday John Gilbert will be seen in "The Wolf Man."

THE Laun-Dry-ETTE Electric Washing Machine has no wringer and needs none. It whirles a whole tubful wringer-dry without a wringer in 1 minute.

Instead of wringing creases into the clothes—the Laun-Dry-ETTE leaves them crease-less.

"It decreases my ironing mileage, and cuts at least one half hour off my wash-day work," says one user.

May we tell you or, better still show you its service features? Phone, call or write.

HE ever-versatile Oppenheim has written more of a love story than is usual with him, but it is not without the international complications, fascinating women, exotic characters and exciting incidents that have made his novels so popular.

This romance was dedicated to the author's secretary because she loved it best of all his books. The preference of the secretary of an internationally famous novelist would seem to be a pretty safe guide to a highly interesting story.
